

LC|GC
north america

Emerging Leader in Chromatography

FINALIST Ales Podgornik

Ales Podgornik is currently CSO and R&D Manager with BIA Separations, Austria. He received the Ph.D. degree in chemistry and chemical technology from the Department of Chemistry, University of Ljubljana, Slovenia. He has written 60 papers and reviews in international journals in the field analytical chemistry, nine book chapters, and holds six international and seven Slovene patents. He received the Josef Stefan Golden Emblem Prize for outstanding doctoral dissertation in 2001, and the Zois Award in 2005. His primary research interests are stationary phases, monoliths, separation processes, and biochemical engineering.