

Women's Health Updates Beyond the Pandemic

ARTICLES AND RESOURCES

UPDATED STRATEGIES FOR SELF-EDUCATION

- Sign up for ACOG notifications and e-mails at:
<https://www.acog.org/myacog/communication-preferences>
- Society for Maternal-Fetal Medicine updates:
<https://www.smfm.org/publications>
- Other Specialty Societies have “Best Practices”, “Committee Opinions”, “Clinical Guidelines”, and similarly named summary documents.
- Choosing Wisely – search all medical specialty societies for their priority recommendations: <https://www.choosingwisely.org/clinician-lists/>
- CDC “Health Matters for Women” Newsletter sign-up
www.cdc.gov/women/newsletter/index.htm

→ The New England Journal of Medicine updates:

www.nejm.org
sign up for a free account, then go to “Alerts” to choose your notifications.

→ Journal Table of Contents Notifications:

Go to the respective journal's website to sign up for “eTOC” (electronic Table of Contents), or similarly name resource. Some journals require you to register for a free account.

→ Organization Newsletters:

a. Most organizations (TJC, AHRQ, Cochrane, etc) have newsletters or email alerts.

This list was compiled by Christine R. Isaacs, MD; and William M. Leininger, MD, as a supplement to their presentation from the 2021 ACOG Annual Clinical and Scientific Meeting, held virtually April 30-May 2.