

Contents

Pharm Exec's annual sales and marketing employment survey, page 40

Features

- Employment Survey
40 The Big Squeeze
Michele Goldberg, Bob Davenport, and Tiffany Mortellito, The Hay Group
A new survey reveals that pharma's sales force compensation model is showing signs of wear.
- Market Development
48 Metabolic Syndrome: The Making of a New Disease
Joanna Breitstein, Senior Associate Editor
Pharma is beginning to understand the role of insulin resistance in cardiovascular disease and type 2 diabetes. Now, it must establish the market for treatment.
- Executive Strategies
56 From Conflict to Collaboration
Howard M. Guttman, Guttman Development Strategies
New rules of engagement can help pharma overcome creative conflict.
- In the Spotlight
64 Streamlining for Success
L.J. Sellers, Senior Editor
CEO Fred Price shed BioMarin's noncore projects and propelled the company forward.

INTERVIEW

- 32 Nothing Is Automatic
Patrick Clinton, Editor-in-Chief, and Jill Wechsler, Washington Editor
A conversation with FDA Commissioner Mark McClellan on pricing, importation, and his goals for the industry.

Cover photography by Adam Auel. Art direction by Barbara Mickelson.

Contents continued on page 10

Contents

continued

Marketers | Mix

NEWS

- 68 Need in Nursing Homes
- 68 Agency Accolades
- 70 First Pub for Generics
- 72 Conference Capsule
- 74 Can Doctors Read Between the Lines?

WINDOWS

- 70 People

FEATURE

Market Research

78 Psychographic Demonstration

Michael D. Lam,
Associate Editor

Experience shows that demographics alone don't do a good job of predicting consumer behavior. Now, pharma companies may turn to psychographics to further segment and target patient populations.

Departments

- 18 World Watch
Statins may go over the counter in Europe soon, plus the top 20 pharma companies to work for.
- 26 Washington Report
The Medicare Bill: Passed but Not Perfect
Jill Wechsler
The new bill may undergo "corrections" before the year is over.
- 30 Euro Report
UK Biotech Needs a Boost
Sarah Houlton, PhD
The ailing UK biotech sector needs an infusion of cash or it may succumb to US company buyouts.
- 84 People Update
- 86 Calendar

Columns

- 14 From the Editor
What the Dickens?
Patrick Clinton
The job isn't just selling drugs. It's healing people.
- 90 Back Page
Pharma Funds Are Not Enough
Joanna Breitstein,
Senior Associate Editor
It's great that pharma donates drugs to Africa. But what happens to them?

Services

- 86 Advertisers
- 87 Professional Services