Psychiatric Times <www.PsychiatricTimes.com> provides timely and practical cutting edge clinical content and commentaries via peer-reviewed articles for practicing psychiatrists and other mental health care professionals.

Please be sure your article meets the following criteria:

☐ Manuscript represents original material that is not in the consideration process elsewhere.

Have you included:

☐ Title: In 10 words or less, what will our audience learn from this article? (We encourage creativity!)

☐ Tables, Figures, Graphics: Manuscripts should aim to include at least 1 table or figure. Illustrations and photos should be submitted as JPG, GIF, or PNG files; images may be submitted in PDF or PPT format; simple tables and graphs may be made in MS Word.

☐ Reprint permission for graphical material that is not original.

☐ Tables, Figures, Graphics called out in text, with brief explanation/relevancy.

☐ Background information for readers: Why this topic is important; may include results from previous studies, relevant epidemiological data, etc.

☐ Updated information: Data, guidelines, studies within the last few years.

☐ Case vignette (if applicable): A composite case that does not point to any one patient. Cases are encouraged to help illustrate challenges and potential solutions.

☐ Practical tips, clinical guidance, synthesis of research/guidelines and take-home lessons are identified in text and/or in tables.

☐ Conclusion tying everything together for readers as well as looking forward to future implications.

☐ In-text citations and references: Must be in numerical order in the body of the text and in the reference section, following AMA style. Please, no more than 20 references.

☐ Word length: less than 2000 unless otherwise discussed with PT staff.

☐ Acknowledgement: Not required but can be used to note assistance/guidance with the piece instead of honorary author bylines.

☐ MS Word file: All manuscripts must be submitted via email in a Word document.

☐ Psychiatric Times’ Article Infosheet (at the end of this document): Be sure to list all authors, financial disclosures for each, contact information for corresponding author, brief biographical statement including for each author, most appropriate topic category.
Review & Editorial Processes

All articles are reviewed to determine originality, accuracy, significance of content and conclusions, and relevance to readers.

Authors may receive comments based on editorial and peer reviews and may be asked to revise their manuscripts to address suggestions and concerns.

The editorial staff may make revisions aimed at greater clarity, conciseness, and conformity to style. Authors will be given the opportunity to review the edited version of their manuscript before publication. There may be subsequent changes based on layout needs and other issues.

Authors who will be away from their email for a long period of time or who have a change in contact and/or affiliation information should advise Psychiatric Times.

We reserve the right to reject any unsolicited or solicited article that does not meet with editorial approval; revision requests and completions do not guarantee acceptance.
