

Website Accessibility Statement

Southern California Medical Center is committed to ensuring digital accessibility for everyone. We are continually improving the user experience of our website at <https://scmedcenter.org/> for everyone and applying the relevant accessibility standards. Our accessibility policy was approved and became effective October 6, 2020.

We have applied commercially reasonable efforts to comply with WCAG 2.1 Level AA accessibility standards. If you encounter a page or section of our website which you cannot utilize due to a disability, please contact our accessibility coordinator, Angela Arena at Modern Practice Consulting, LLC. Our accessibility coordinator can be reached at this email address: angela@modernpractice.com. We will respond within two business days to all relevant communication.

Please contact us at the email address above if you have any questions or need additional assistance.