PROFESSIONAL INDEMNITY COVER

You do not have this insurance at the present as, due to the type of work you carry out you do not currently require the cover. You are likely to need professional indemnity insurance if:

- You provide advice or professional services to your clients (including consulting or contracting)
- You provide designs to your clients (such as working as an architect or design engineer)
- You want to protect against allegations of mistakes in work you have undertaken for your client
- Your industry association/regulatory body requires you to have it (such as working as an architect or chartered accountant)

We are able to obtain terms for you with an indemnity limit of £5,000,000 if required

CONTRACTORS ALL RISK COVER

You do not have this insurance at the present as, due to the type of work you carry out you do not currently require the cover.

This is an insurance policy is specifically designed for building contractors and is intended to cover works on site until the completion date. It can pay to repair or redo the work that it is in progress if it's damaged by an insured event such as fire, flood, storm, vandalism or theft and can include the cost of the labour, materials and tools to get the work back to the stage it was at before it was damaged.

We are able to obtain terms for you with a maximum contract value of £10,000,000 if required
