

PERSPECTIVE

LENS REFLECTION SCULPTURE

In the Reflection Sculpture, seemingly disparate references meet in a beautifully unexpected union; the minimal language of brutalist futurism wielded to speak of Hollywood glamour, as well as the centrality of the mirror in the yoga studio. The polished, mirrored stainless steel and seamless, sophisticated welding from specialist artisans exudes luxury and is scaled to reflect the full body, viewable from all sides. The result of a suggestion to Bec Snelling to make something she would love, the Reflection Sculpture was the first piece designed for the collection and its mirrored light invites the gaze anew, an examination of vanity and self reflection.
