

Biography Maddalena Scampuddu

Maddalena is Chief of Staff and Head of IT at Cosmo, where she partners closely with the CEO and Leadership Team to drive execution of strategic priorities, strengthen cross-functional collaboration, and ensure operational excellence across the organization. Alongside leading the company's IT, cybersecurity, and compliance functions, she helps translate leadership decisions into actionable plans, coordinates enterprise-wide initiatives, and reinforces governance and execution across the business.

With nearly 20 years of experience across the technology industry and global management consulting at PwC, Maddalena has a proven track record of leading business transformation, technology modernization, cybersecurity, compliance, and operational improvement initiatives for organizations ranging from high-growth startups to global enterprises. Before joining Cosmo, she held senior IT and Security leadership roles, including Director of IT, Security & Compliance at ServiceTitan, where she led global technology operations, security, and compliance programs while enabling business growth through scalable processes and cross-functional execution.

Having spent 15 years working in the United States, Maddalena brings extensive international leadership experience and is recognized for aligning technology with business priorities, building high-performing teams, driving organizational execution, and fostering a culture of accountability, collaboration, and continuous improvement. She is also an active mentor and advocate for women in technology and leadership.
