

Terms of Reference – VET Supply Advisory Body

BuildSkills Australia Limited (ABN 86 668 509 822) (BuildSkills)

1 VET Supply Chain Overview

Australia's Vocational Education and Training (VET) system is held up internationally as an example of best practice. The many actors in our VET supply chain play a critical role in the identification and delivery of skills into the labour market. Jobs and Skills Councils (JSCs) are accountable for the review and development of nationally endorsed training packages, as well as identifying opportunities to support the implementation and monitoring of delivery.

2 The Role of the VET Supply Advisory Body

- 2.1 The VET Supply Advisory Body ('Advisory Body') is a representative committee, established to provide technical advice to BuildSkills Australia Limited ('BuildSkills') Training Products and Projects team on matters relating to the training system.
- 2.2 The Advisory Body is established by BuildSkills to provide expert industry input, advice, feedback and direction on a range of issues pertaining to:
- a) Specific advice on Training Product Development (TPD) work including identifying the best ways to approach skills needs within each given industry;
  - b) Training product implementation challenges that may guide training product development work, including updates to existing training products;
  - c) VET supply constraints;
  - d) The fitness-for-purpose of nationally endorsed training products, including where reviews and updates are required.
- 2.3 The Advisory Body will also:
- a) Facilitate access to stakeholders in the training systems including public and private RTOs, trainers and assessors, and other actors in the VET ecosystem;
  - b) Assist BuildSkills to identify opportunities to participate in relevant training system related events, programs, and/or projects that are relevant to BuildSkills' core program of work;

- c) Work together with other BuildSkills Advisory Bodies where appropriate, to provide comprehensive advice.
- 2.4 The Advisory Body does not hold any decision-making authority in relation to BuildSkills' operating functions. It is overseen by the Executive Director – Training Products and Projects and is ultimately responsible to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO).
- 2.5 The CEO will periodically review the operation and effectiveness of the Advisory Body and may make changes, including but not limited to, the Advisory Body's composition, membership, or activities.

3 Membership

- 3.1 The Advisory Body is made up of ten (10) members, representing a cross-section of stakeholder groups for training programs and projects. The membership is established as follows:
- a) Three (3) public Registered Training Organisations (RTO's) representatives that deliver at least one of the training packages within BuildSkills' remit;
  - b) Three (3) private Registered Training Organisations (RTO's) representatives that deliver at least one of the training packages within BuildSkills' remit;
  - c) One (1) education union body representative;
  - d) Two (2) State Training Authority representatives; and
