

16. Species counter

Have you ever stopped to look at all the different species of birds and animals around you? This project can help you use your micro:bit to help you spot and count different species in your local habitat: in your garden, street or local park.

Each time you spot a particular type of animal pressing a and count the total. Over time you can build up a picture of the different species that live around you.

on start
  show number 0
  set count to 0

on button A pressed
  show number count

on button B pressed
  change count by 1
  show number count

on button A+B pressed
  show number 0
  set count to 0

```
