HISTORY

Style 396 ~ Pacific Ready-Cut Home ~ Specifications

ORIGINS

Proliferating from the early 20th century through the 1930s, Craftsman style homes are characterized by low-pitched, gabled roofs, exposed rafters, long covered porches, and use of wood siding, stucco, and natural stone accents. California's variants are primarily inspired by Charles Sumner Greene and Harry Mather Greene, architect brothers from Pasadena who defined the Craftsman style there (it became popular across America thanks to pattern books).
