

September 2024

Hamburgers were first made in Seymour, Wisconsin in 1885. Charlie Nagreen apparently served the very first hamburger at the Seymour Fair when he flattened a meatball—which weren't selling terribly well—and placed it between slices of bread to make it easier to carry around and eat.

The first movie ever to put out a motion-picture soundtrack was Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs

Iceland does not have a railway system.

The Lego Group is the world's most powerful brand. There are more Lego Minifigures than there are people on Earth.

Do you remember Oscar Meyer's Weinermobile?

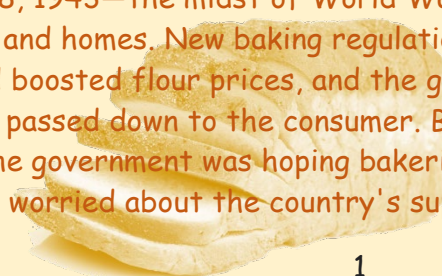

Hershey's had the Kissmobile, The Kissmobile traveled 250,000 miles, giving out samples and sparking smiles since its debut in 1997. The 26-foot vehicle can hold close to a ton of Kisses. The original Kissmobile Cruiser is on display at a museum in Hershey, Pennsylvania.

After the Civil War children were encouraged to put their pennies in mechanical banks that performed tricks to encourage thrift. Over 200 mechanical bank patents were issued between 1869 and 1907. Halls Excelsior Bank the earliest known and patented cast iron mechanical bank.

Starting January 18, 1943—the midst of World War II—sliced bread was barred from American bakeries and homes. New baking regulations set by the Office of Price Administration had boosted flour prices, and the government wanted to prevent these costs from getting passed down to the consumer. By banning the use of expensive bread-slicing machines, the government was hoping bakeries could keep their prices low. Officials were also worried about the country's supply of wax paper—and sliced bread required twice as much paraffin wrapping as an unsliced loaf. (It prevented the slices from drying prematurely.) Complete story go to:

<https://www.mentalfloss.com/article/569606/time-us-government-banned-sliced-bread#:~:text=The>

Elvis was originally blonde. He started coloring his hair black for an edgier look. Sometimes, he would touch it up himself using shoe polish.

IKEA is an acronym that stands for Ingvar Kamprad Elmtaryd Agunnaryd, which is the founder's name, the farm where he grew up, and his hometown.

Thought you might be trying to remember their names---

