

Growing up you may have heard your mother say---

Always Wear Clean Underwear - You Might Get in an Accident!"

"Because I Said So!"

Wait Until Your Father Gets Home!"

"Money Doesn't Grow on Trees!"

Stop crying before I give you something to cry about."

"I don't care who started it."

What it really means: I'm completely over it and I just want it to end. NOW.

"I'll smack your heads together if you don't stop it."

What it really means: I'm not above threatening violence if it doesn't stop right now.

There are children starving around the world, eat your dinner."

"Eat your carrots and you'll see in the dark!"

If someone asked you to jump off a cliff, would you?"

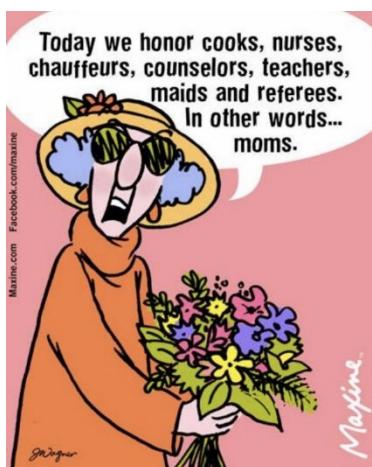

Don't put that in your mouth, you don't know where it's been."

What it really means: Ewwww.

"Go ask your father."

"If you're too sick to go to school, you're too sick to be having any fun."

What it really means: In other words, I'm going to make the sick day at home so boring you'll be wishing you were at school.

"Just you wait and see."

MOM turned upside down spells WOW.

Coincidence? I think not!
