

Inetum Realdolmen stays on top of new learning needs with bite-sized content.

 Inetum Realdolmen

 ICT

 1.600 employees

 Huizingen, Belgium

The variety of GoodHabitZ learning formats stimulates our employees' curiosity and ensures that the material sticks.

Helen van Dessel,
Senior Partner Learning and Development

Our solutions to Inetum Realdolmen's challenges:

Challenge

As a fast-paced ICT company, new learning needs emerge constantly.

Solution

Finding customised training for employees can be time-consuming. Inetum Realdolmen's workforce has access to over 130 bite-sized learning opportunities with diverse content in 8 different growth areas. One size doesn't fit all, so providing employees with different formats allows them to tailor their learning goals and stimulate development.

Challenge

With constantly evolving skill demands, it can be difficult for employees to know exactly what they want to learn and improve on; to discover new areas to adapt in.

Solution

The QuickScan, at the start of a course, provides a better understanding of specific skills and helps employees find areas they want to excel in, guiding a more targeted form of learning. Clarifying self-insights enables employees to focus on lower-scoring modules. The assessments provide employees insight into their competencies!

Challenge

To make learning easily accessible, to motivate employees.

Solution

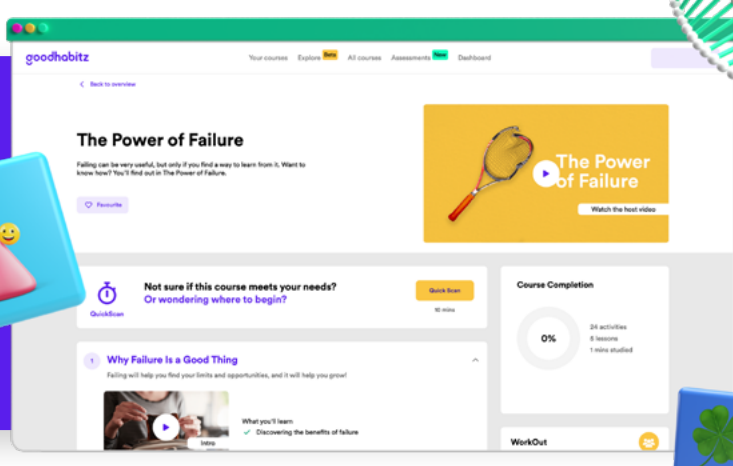

It can be tricky to promote (new) learning opportunities. Making GoodHabitZ modules accessible allows you to highlight content aligned with learning offerings and competencies. Using the Promo Studio to easily and effectively promote GoodHabitZ within your organisation, increasing engagement and unleashing your organisation's learning power.

Challenge

As a people-focused organisation experiencing tremendous growth, employees feel a disconnect with their managers, losing out on the human aspect of the interaction.

Solution

Introducing the Leadership Excellence Program let Inetum Realdolmen strengthen competencies in line with their unique vision of defining leadership. GoodHabitZ modules like 'Take the Lead' and 'Oh Yes, It's Stress' are integrated so managers can take charge of their leadership vision to help guide an effective narrative for the organisation.

Key stats:

172

managers have completed the leadership program over the past two years.

+1.400

Hours were spent learning (in total).

Inetum Realdolmen's favorites:

 Information Security

 The Power of Failure

 Oh Yes, It's Stress

"We believe that you're in the driver's seat of your own learning path; your company can help pave the road, but you inevitably shift the gears. What GoodHabitZ does is offer a variety of learning formats which stimulates employees' curiosity and helps the digestibility of material. Using GoodHabitZ as a framework for learning allows employees to get to know the training and get the gears going."

Helen van Dessel,
Learning and Development

Discover today how GoodHabitZ can effectively empower your complete workforce to start learning the skills that matter tomorrow.

Learn more