TITLE: The Sustainable Livelihoods Approach to Recovering from the Effects of COVID 19.
Developing a Post-Pandemic Sustainable Tourism Strategy for Indigenous Women
Entrepreneurs in Canada

OBJECTIVES OF RESEARCH:

COVID 19 has decimated the Indigenous tourism industry in Canada, there is a need to consult on the development of solutions that inform a post-pandemic Indigenous tourism industry for female entrepreneurs that is focused on culinary, crafts, arts, adventure, hospitality and cultural tourism. The objectives of this study are to determine through interviews, visioning circles and sharing circles recommendations for training and support to increase sustainable livelihood development amongst Indigenous women in Canada's North. This research will co-create a post pandemic tourism strategy that focuses on the specific needs of Indigenous women in the North and creates a framework for identifying the benefits and barriers to entrepreneurship in Indigenous tourism.
