CAWST, the Centre for Affordable Water and Sanitation Technology, is a nonprofit organization that provides training and consulting to organizations working directly with populations in developing countries who lack access to clean water and basic sanitation.

One of CAWST's core strategies is to make knowledge about water common knowledge. This is achieved, in part, by developing and freely distributing education materials with the intent of increasing the availability of information to those who need it most.

Gender Discussion Questions

- What would you like to change about the way your gender is perceived? For example, I would like to change the idea that women are weak.
- What makes it difficult to change people's perception on this point?
- What can we do to support this change in perception? Consider from the perspective of both men and women.
