MIKE'S LETTER

What we do at UHB Charity

Together with your help we raise money to provide world-class facilities for patients and their families at Good Hope Hospital, Heartlands Hospital, the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham and Solihull Hospital that go 'over and above' what the NHS can provide.

We spend your generous donations on cutting-edge equipment, world-leading research, specialist facilities and 'added extras' that help to improve the hospital experience for the three million patients who are treated across the Trust each year.

Hello and welcome to the latest edition of UHB Charity's Over and Above newsletter where we bring you our latest news, our upcoming events and examples of incredible charity projects.

This year is a milestone year for the Charity. Fisher House, our 'home away from home' for military patients and their families, celebrates its 10th anniversary. We have welcomed over 7,000 patients and their families since opening our doors in June 2013 and have provided over 40,000 nights of accommodation.

2023 is also the year our wonderful NHS turns 75 years old and the Charity is as determined as ever to support NHS staff and the patients they care for. In this landmark year we cannot stand still; we will keep pushing for revolutionary ways to improve our patients' hospital journeys.

We are excited to see Heartlands Treatment Centre open and providing specialist care to patients from across the West Midlands. UHB Charity is proud to work with University Hospitals Birmingham NHS Foundation Trust to fund one of two MRI scanners at the treatment centre to not only help increase the number of people being seen, but to also reduce waiting times.

We know the little things can also make a big difference. Take a look on pages 12 and 13 to see how we are 'sprinkling some magic' across our hospitals.

On page 17 you'll find all the information on how you could win a whopping £3,000 this summer! We hold a bi-annual bumper lottery draw to give our wonderful supporters the opportunity to win an extra special cash prize!

We always love to hear from you, so please contact us on social media, just search @UHBCharity and follow us to send us a direct message. Alternatively, call us on 0121 371 4852 or email charities@uhb.nhs.uk. It is thanks to our donors and supporters that we are able to change and save lives each year, so thank you for your ongoing support.

10 FISHER HOUSE

Fisher House offers a home away from home for injured military personnel, many of whom served in Iraq and Afghanistan and continue to return to the hospital for more surgery, and personnel who are receiving treatment for illness – from cancer care to transplants. Guests have described Fisher House as ‘one big hug’ and ‘a place that takes away all your problems’. It costs the charity £40 a night to host a military family in their time of need.

Fisher House turns 10 years old this year and we would love you to celebrate it with us. The Home away from Home for military patients and their families was opened by HM The King on 21 June 2013, whilst he was still HRH The Prince of Wales.

Since Fisher House first opened its doors 10 years ago, we are proud to say we have welcomed over 7,000 families and have provided over 40,000 nights of accommodation.

“Fisher House was there for me in my hour of need, I couldn’t have got through it without them”
- a military patient who stayed at Fisher House

The house is entirely charity funded and relies solely on donations to keep this incredible facility running, year after year.

You can help us fund another 10 years of Fisher House, and keep our heroes and their families together.

THE GEMMELLS

“Fisher House was a godsend for me and my girls.”

- Kelly Gemmell

Staff Sergeant Stuart ‘Archie’ Gemmell was deployed to Forward Operating Base Wishtan, Helmand. The Royal Engineer had been assigned the job of clearing the surrounding maze of homemade bombs. Soon, he came across a wall with steps chiselled into it. Realising that he would get a good view from the top, he started to climb. The steps gave way and, in an attempt to keep his balance, he stepped backwards, his left foot landing inside a clay bread oven.

At first, nothing happened, but then a deafening explosion ripped through the air. As he lay there waiting for the surrounding dust to settle, he didn’t feel any initial pain – only a strange feeling that something had gone badly wrong.

Then he heard a familiar voice: “Archie, keep still. You’ve lost your leg.” Stuart was flown to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham and spent eight weeks in recovery having lost one leg, and sustaining substantial trauma to his other leg, his buttocks and arms. Stuart continues to return to the hospital for ongoing treatment and operations.

His wife Kelly was very thankful that she was able to stay in Fisher House. Kelly said, “Fisher House was a godsend for me and my girls. We were able to visit Stuart every day and we had somewhere that we could call home for the eight weeks that he was being treated. We stay at Fisher House whenever Stuart comes back for treatment.”

Charity Champs

Over the last few months we have been humbled by the number of people who have taken on a fundraising event in support of our patients and staff. Thank you to each and every one of you for your incredible support.

Here are just some of the amazing fundraisers who have done something special over the past few months.

Blake Thomas

We would like to dedicate a special mention to one of our longstanding fundraisers, Blake Thomas. Blake very sadly died in December 2022.

Blake had a heart transplant in 2020 and since then fundraised every year along with his family to raise money for the team who looked after him. They've taken on long-distance challenges across the country, with this year being no different. His dad, Mick, is continuing the tradition this year with two more rides planned for the summer. There will be nearly 20 riders altogether completing this challenge in Blake's honour and memory.

His dad, Mick told us, "From a very young age he liked to make people laugh, a fun loving person who was always up to some mischief as a boy. As he grew older, he loved playing football, squash and going cycling. He was passionate about giving back to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham for all they did for him. His last job was a community ambulance driver, which he enjoyed immensely. We'll remember him for his love for his family; he was very close with his nephews and nieces, he was always up for entertaining them."

Solihull Paediatrics team - Rachel

Rachel, who is a matron for paediatrics based at Solihull Hospital and the surrounding community, told us about her experience at Sunrise Snowdon and why she wanted to fundraise:

"We had a great time completing the Sunrise Snowdon event. Sarah and I had taken part in the challenge previously and were keen to go again. Our colleague Kerry and her mum joined us as well as a personal challenge but also to help us fundraise for our service. It was really well organised and although it was hard work and tiring, it was really good fun too – and we saw an amazing sunrise!

"We are always keen to raise money for our Children's Community Nursing service so we can provide additional resources for children with complex and palliative care needs and moderate to severe learning disabilities.

"We have purchased sensory and developmental toys for our support workers to use with them, made 'reminder' fridge magnets of what to take to hospital in an emergency and created 'teddies with tubes' to support children's understanding of some of the procedures they have to go through. Everything we do is to make their lives a little bit easier, a little bit more fun and a little bit more inclusive. This year we are looking at the Three Peaks Challenge and wondering if our knees can cope."

Lisa Chapman

One of our fantastic fundraisers, Lisa Chapman (centre) and her Granddaughter Harper-Mae, (right) hosted a charity cycle ride last summer and a Christmas party and raised a whopping £5,203.

Lisa wanted the money to go towards the new Transplant Centre at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham, which is one of only two centres in the country to be able to treat four major organ transplants - heart, lung, liver and kidney.

Lisa sadly lost her son Josh, when he was 24 years old, after a tragic road accident in 2019. She described him as being the “life and soul of our family”. He leaves behind his daughter Harper-Mae, who was just six months old at the time. However, Josh was a super hero as he was a registered donor and went on to save the lives of six people!

We cannot thank Lisa and her family enough for all they have done. Despite smashing their target, they continue to raise funds to ensure more patients can get the life-saving treatment they need and you can help too, by visiting here:

Luke White runs for UHB Charity

Luke is one of our incredible hospital staff members who ran the Manchester Marathon in April in aid of the Burns Centre at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham and the Clinical Photography Department.

We asked Luke what first got him into running, and he said, “I’ve been running since I was 15; I first started when a friend of mine developed a brain tumour and sadly passed away. After that, I decided to raise money for charity by doing my local 10km race.

“Since then, I have joined my awesome local running club, Aldridge Running Club, where I have met great friends and continued to take my running further by running my first marathon back in 2021.

“Running is a big part of my life outside of my work at the hospital, and it’s a great way to unwind from a busy day.”

We want to say a huge congratulations to Luke for completing the Manchester Marathon. Not only did he finish the race in his best time to date, he’s raised an awesome amount for UHB Charity!

Thank you!

Join UHB Charity 75 years of

This year University Hospitals Birmingham Charity is marking an incredible 75 years of the NHS and we would love you to join in the celebrations.

We have funded a number of projects across our four hospital sites over the years including:

- CyberKnife radiotherapy machine at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham
- Refurbishing the Children's Department at Heartlands Hospital

- A new midwifery led unit at Good Hope Hospital

There are many ways in which you can show your appreciation for our NHS superheroes, from hosting a tea party with your family and friends to holding a 'Wear it Blue' day at your office or school.

We will be holding a Big Tea event at our four hospitals on 5 July to raise vital funds to help our patients and their families during their time in hospital; giving them and staff the support they need.

...y in celebrating of the NHS

If you want to host your own Big Tea event at home, at work or at a school/community group – you can do it on the same day or any other time during this year and we will support you with your event and help provide materials like a charity goblet, bunting and posters.

CORPORATE T

We are incredibly grateful to receive fantastic support from businesses across the West Midlands. Take a look at some of the ways our corporate partners have supported us recently.

NATIONAL GAS METERING

Over the past few years, National Gas Metering has kindly supported our Neonatal Units by funding Prematurity Packs for families of newborn babies. Parents will receive a lot of essential information when they arrive and throughout their stay on the unit, but sometimes this can be very overwhelming and parents find it hard to take it all in. These packs will enable the information to be given and kept in one place so parents can read through it in their own time; which has been proven to help with their understanding and retention of the details they're given. These packs will help parents spend as much time as possible with their new babies, during a time that can be incredibly stressful. We are proud to support parents in whatever way we can during their time of need. Teams from National Gas Metering have also volunteered their time by coming in and putting together the packs and prepared our Neonatal Home away from Home so that it was ready for our first family last year.

Faye Dowling at National Gas Metering said, "It was so rewarding helping to create support packs to give to the parents of premature babies, knowing we were helping make a difference during such a tough time in those parents' lives, is amazing."

BOND WOLFE

Not only did Bond Wolfe choose us as their charity partner in 2022, but we are proud to say they have chosen to support us for 2023 as well! In 2022, team members did a whole host of fundraising events, including half marathons and even daredevil tandem skydives. They were fantastic, and raised over £10,000 to support teenagers with cancer.

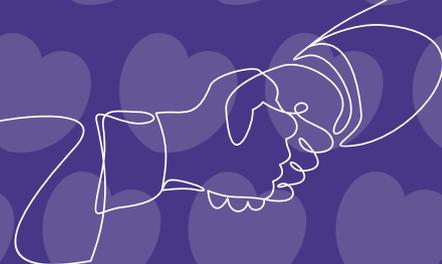

Thanks to their support, UHB Charity was able to fund 'added extras' that have helped our Young Person's Unit to become a 'home from home' for teenage cancer patients and their families. From providing DVDs and Xbox games, to pizza nights and 'grab bags' filled with essential items, Bond Wolfe's donation means we can be there every step of the way to support young patients with cancer.

UHB Charity also funds a specialist teacher, Jayne Ruisi, who supports patients with their education and development whilst they are in hospital to give them as normal a life as possible.

Lisa Worrall, Director of Agency at Bond Wolfe said, "We are all tremendously proud of our colleagues for going above and beyond to raise money for this fantastic cause. This year we are fundraising for UHB Charity's Children's Appeal, which helps to provide care and treatment for children undergoing radiotherapy treatment."

EAM BUILDING

RNA

The team from RNA Automation Ltd has kindly chosen us to be their charity partner this year! They are taking part in the Birmingham 10k and Snowdon Treks to support UHB Charity and celebrate the 75th birthday of the NHS.

One of the team, Jemma Dubberley, said, "It is hard to put into words just how much difference the Midwifery Led Unit makes to parents having their baby at Good Hope Hospital. This £1 million facility was funded by UHB Charity and made my birthing experience go as smoothly as possible."

Talking about the Midwifery Led Unit, Maggie Coleman, Matron for Maternity Services at Good Hope Hospital, said: "It is hard to put into words just how much difference the Midwifery Led Unit makes to parents having their baby at Good Hope Hospital. Allowing midwives to focus on the mother's needs and wishes before, during and after the birth, in a relaxed environment, helps to reduce the stress and anxiety of child birth and give the parents and their baby the perfect start to their lives together."

ASSOCIATED ARCHITECTS

Staff at Associated Architects took on a sponsored walk in September 2022 that raised £2,700, as well as a client and consultant quiz raising a further £1,300 – bringing the total to an amazing £4,000 for UHB Charity's Cancer Appeal.

The STEptember challenge saw the team aiming to collectively take 10 million steps across the month. The team went beyond their original target, managing 12,737,476 steps - almost the equivalent of Birmingham to Beijing!

Director Warren Jukes said, "Every two minutes, someone in the UK is diagnosed with cancer; an alarming statistic. With this in mind, we - along with the help of our clients and collaborators - are delighted to support University Hospitals Birmingham Charity Cancer Appeal. The appeal is making an enormous difference to the thousands of patients in Birmingham who have received this terrible news - including loved ones of the Associated Architects team. Thank you to everyone that supported us."

Thanks to this incredibly kind donation, UHB Charity is able to continue supporting patients through their cancer treatment, so they can be as comfortable as possible during their time in hospital as well as supporting their families during understandably concerning times.

MATCH FUNDING

Calling all staff!

We want to help you make your ward or department be the best possible environment for patients and staff. Why not get involved in our new Match Funding scheme?

For every £1 you raise, UHB Charity will match that with an extra £2 - tripling your money. We will match up to a maximum of £6,000 (£2,000 from your fundraising and £4,000 from UHB Charity matching).

Here are just a few examples of what you could fund:

- Refurbish your staff room to make it a more relaxing place to decompress.
- Purchase specialist sensory toys for children with additional needs.
- Fund activity materials for older patients with dementia.

You know your patients best; if you can think of any projects that will help them and your ward; we would love to hear from you.

Giving in Memory

At UHB Charity, we have put care and consideration into expanding our options for everyone to remember those whom they have recently lost, or wish to remember over time.

We have created a new information pack which provides everything you will need for arranging a collection or charity dedication in memory of your loved one. Instead of buying flowers for the service, many ask family and friends to donate so they can help others in their time of need.

Please contact us today by emailing charities@uhb.nhs.uk to receive your free pack in the post.

Tribute Page

UHB Charity has also partnered with MuchLoved to offer you the opportunity to remember your loved one through an online tribute page.

It's a space where family and friends can share memories, photographs, thoughts and light candles as a dedication to their loved one. It is completely free, but you can also collect money for UHB Charity if you wish.

Here's an example:

Laura, who created a Tribute page, told us, "The tribute page was well organised, easy to set up and a great way to collect donations in my Dad's memory. It's a brilliant service and was a touching way to remember him."

SPRINKLE SOME MAGIC

We have re-launched our Sprinkle Some Magic scheme which allows wards and departments to apply for open funding for items that go over and above what the NHS can provide.

We provide grants from £50 to £1,000 to help Sprinkle Some Magic across our hospitals. This year, staff have chosen to spread joy across the hospitals in many different ways. Take a look...

LED WRITING PADS

As part of our Sprinkle Some Magic scheme, we funded LED writing pads for patients who are hard of hearing to enable better communication between them and the staff caring for them. Quick and effective communication means patients' needs can be assessed quickly, helping them get treated faster and reduce overall wait times.

Our Older Person Assessment Liaison, Clinical Lead Sarah Chamberlain, used the communication board in the A&E department with a 91-year-old who was born deaf. Sarah said, "Although the patient could lip read and use sign language there were parts of the assessment that we were struggling to complete. However, the communication board enabled the assessment to be completed thoroughly and effectively. The patient found the board so useful he wanted to purchase one himself and was so grateful he was able to communicate with staff easily whilst he was with us."

STRICTLY NOT REHAB

UHB Charity funds dance sessions for cardiac rehabilitation patients to help with their recovery.

Lorraine, one of the cardiac rehabilitation volunteers explained the importance of these sessions: "I've been with Strictly Not Rehab since the beginning of the program. Our patients love it as it's also a great social activity for them. Whilst at the sessions, they can talk with the medical staff and ask the physios questions. They're all cardiac patients, so by being here together they get to talk to other patients who are in a similar boat to themselves. It's just a really lovely program and we really see the difference it makes to our patients."

One dancer told the hospital charity, "I initially came along to support my husband who was a cardiac patient. It was so helpful to meet the other carers who attend and be able to share my anxieties surrounding his health and talk to people who really understand what I'm going through. Even though my husband has sadly passed away, I keep coming to stay healthy, but also to see my friends."

SPRINKLE SOME MAGIC

DEMENTIA SUPPORT

Across our hospitals, 1 in 4 inpatients will have dementia or delirium. To help provide the best medical care for these types of patients, the Sprinkle Some Magic project has provided £1,000 to fund activities for dementia patients. Being in hospital with dementia can be incredibly scary and disorientating.

To help combat this, we have provided jigsaws and dominoes to stimulate their minds and alleviate boredom. For late stage dementia patients, we provide dolls and toy pets, as the sensation of holding a toy baby prompts the patient to instinctively sooth the doll as they would their own child, which in turn calms them.

SENSORY TOYS FOR CHILDREN

We treat thousands of children across our hospital sites every year. It can be a really scary time for them when they arrive for their treatment, so we supplied the play team with some sensory toys to help keep children entertained while they wait. These toys are also great for calming the children down before their treatment, which in turn helps it go as smoothly as possible. We wouldn't be able to fund these items if it wasn't for our fabulous supporters. Even though some of these items may seem small, they can have a huge impact on the experience our patients have in our hospitals.

Please donate to Sprinkle Some Magic, and help us make a real difference across our hospitals. We love seeing staff and patients' faces light up and with your help, we can make that happen.

UHB Charity fund new M

We are thrilled to provide a new state-of-the-art MRI scanner at the new Heartlands Treatment Centre (HTC) which opened this year.

UHB Charity is proud to work with University Hospitals Birmingham NHS Foundation Trust to fund one of two MRI scanners at the treatment centre. The scanners shorten the treatment time and are less claustrophobic; this helps to increase the number of people being seen, reducing waiting times and means less stress for patients and their families. It's also more environmentally friendly!

UHB Charity is also fundraising to decorate the MRI Suite, treatment and consultation rooms with comforting images to create a more relaxing and calming environment for patients and their families, as well as creating a more attractive space for staff to work in.

The brand new £97million Heartlands Treatment Centre's first patient was Richard Mullen from Walmley (pictured cutting the ribbon), who had an MRI scan in the state-of-the-art scanner, funded by UHB Charity.

Cutting a ribbon to mark the occasion, Richard said: "I was referred to the new Heartlands Treatment Centre after an incident at a trampoline park resulting in me hurting my ankle.

"It feels good to be the first person in the new centre here at Heartlands Hospital - I'm honoured!"

We wouldn't have been able to provide this cutting edge equipment if it wasn't for our fabulous donors and you could be one too – just visit: hospitalcharity.org/heartlandstreatmentcentre or Scan the QR code

RI Scanner at Heartlands

WHAT DOES THIS STATE-OF-THE-ART FACILITY OFFER?

- It will treat up to 1,500 patients a day.
- It offers a 'one-stop-shop' for patients as a result of bringing a range of services under one roof, meaning more treatments, for more patients, delivered more efficiently.
- The new centre includes diagnostics, day case procedures, endoscopy, audiology, outpatients, therapies and imaging services.
- State-of-the-art technology has been installed, including brand new theatre suites and advanced imaging equipment.
- The majority of patients will be seen in the new outpatients department, which features multi-language and disabled-friendly self check-in kiosks for patients, along with wayfinding technology on each floor.

Jonathan Brotherton, Chief Executive at University Hospitals Birmingham (UHB), said: "To be able to offer our patients this superb new space and the very best in new technology, alongside the excellent clinical skills and expertise of our staff, is what we have been working towards.

"We hope many patients will benefit from the Heartlands Treatment Centre for decades to come, and our staff enjoy working in the spacious, bright and purpose-built environment they deserve."

Thank you!

CHILDREN WITH CANCER APPEAL

Every year, around one hundred children are treated for cancer using the radiotherapy machines at the Cancer Centre at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Birmingham.

The Paediatric Radiotherapy service provides excellent care for babies, children and young people (up to the age of 24) who require radiotherapy across the Midlands and further afield.

Each child goes through an average of 30 treatments, so to prepare them, UHB Charity provides every child with a Little Linac – a miniature building block set that children can use to build a replica of a radiotherapy machine, CT scanner and MRI scanner that children with a cancer diagnosis would see throughout their treatment.

This encourages children to learn about their treatment through play, building an awareness of the different types of machines, making it less scary. The fantastic thing about the Little Linac is that a child is less likely to choose anaesthesia during their treatment, which can lead to better medical results. It also increases the bond between patient and radiographer, which can lead to a faster recovery.

Two-year-old Arlo (pictured above) had radiotherapy last year and was given a Little Linac. His dad, Stephen (pictured left), told us, “You can often feel helpless as a parent in these emotional situations, so to have something to distract Arlo with was amazing. He recognised the Tomotherapy unit (the radiotherapy machine, that looks similar to the image above) from the Little Linac set when having his treatment, making it less scary for him and less emotional for us. He also took it home to show his family and friends. We’re so proud of our brave little man.”

Paediatric Specialist Therapeutic Radiographer, Liam Herbert, told us how useful these are when treating children with cancer, “The Little Linacs are great at helping me prepare children for radiotherapy. If a child is nervous, I am able to use the Little Linacs to help familiarise the child with radiotherapy and the machines we use to deliver this important treatment. They often then take these Little Linacs home to build with their family or friends and show off how brave they have been.”
