HEY, I'M RODDY.

I want to make an impact. I see a lot of inefficiency in design and construction - and I want to fix that. I'm not your average architect - I'm a lawyer too - and I continually challenge mainstream conceptions of how we should work. As the founder & CEO of holo-blok, I am intricately involved with all of our design and building solutions projects. I even push the mouse around!

I started holo-blok when I found out we were having our first child. I knew I didn't want to be in the office at 7am and home at 6 pm just to spend an hour with my kids before they went to bed. I knew I could work when I needed to, deliver high quality work, and meet timelines on my own terms. That was the impetus behind holo-blok: reward people for the quality of their work.

When I'm out of the "office", you'll find me in a new place exploring the world with my family. I'm a foodie - so I always want to try a new restaurant whether it's a hole in the wall or it has 3 Michelin stars. If I'm not with my family, you can usually find me with my friends - catching the game, catching up, and of course, enjoying some food and drink along the way.
