Summary

Hi, I am a filmmaker and video editor who has worked as a reporter, cameraman, editor and host for Chinese TV stations.

I have led or participated in the production of many documentaries, and also involved in advertising production.

I focus on video post-production, but I also have a directorial mindset. Whether it is a narrative film, short film, advertisement, documentary, I can quickly grasp the director's intention and help them make the best choice.

In other words, if you're looking for an editor who is familiar with the industry and who can accurately complete your concept, I'm the one.

Here is my homepage if you are interested in my works.
