p.o.v. is a center base table system. the conical base is made of 3 equal plywood parts which are the significant element of this table design. p.o.v. is the english abbreviation for point of view – the center base leaves the symmetry, plays with the shape and changes its form by moving the angle of view. this family of wooden tables with crafted details is utmost convertible – from restrained bistro table to eye-catching center piece. completed by round, square and soft table tops, p.o.v. is incredibly versatile for a wide range of applications – cross-boarder from private homes to professional use. the p.o.v. table system is complemented by a stackable and portable wooden stool.
