Feeling The Love

Karen Guerrieri

You have fantastic hoagies!! Love the way toppings are vacuum packed. I just bought a few and there was Sweet & Tangy Mayo (think it's the name) It was superior than any condiment or sauce I've eaten. I love it...where can I buy some for home?

Thanks for being the BEST 😊

The DelGrosso Dish

DelGrosso Foods Feeling The Love

I wanted to start off by saying thank you for your generosity in helping us fuel the fight against childhood cancer this year. THON™ weekend would not have been possible without DelGrosso's sauce that fueled all of the dancers to stay on their feet for 46 hours! We are so excited to share that our yearlong efforts resulted in $13.7 million dollars raised all For The Kids™!

Thank you again for everything that you have done for our organization, it has been a pleasure working with you this year!

Have a great rest of your day and take care!

For The Kids™, Lizzie

On behalf of the Kylie McMullen Benefit Dinner committee and the whole McMullen family, we truly thank you and DelGrosso's for donating the meals for our dinner.

Because of your generosity, we were able to raise $18,410 for little Kylie and her family.

La Famiglia DelGrosso's 15th SOBE (South Beach) Wine & Food Festival is in the books!

Florida is the #1 market in the country for La Famiglia DelGrosso sauces, and at this year's SOBEWFF, third generation family members Michael, Denise, and Mary Alice, along with fourth generation family member Brian (Son of Danny) fed and educated the endless lines of visitors to our booth. We served over 4,000 meatball martinis, and the response from festival-goers was tremendous!

La Famiglia DelGrosso Feeling The Love

Favorite Quotes from SOBE:

"Your meatball martinis are the most incredible food we have eaten at the entire festival!!!"

"I have been dreaming of a meatball martini for 2 years! Thank you!"

"You have no idea how much we appreciate you making the trip to South Florida to be here. Your sauce rocks!"

"Your sauce is the best in the world! And I know what I'm talking about, because I live in Rome!"

Read Across America

Buddy Bear joined in for the Dr. Seuss - Read Across America Reading Celebration with a visit to Myers Elementary in Bellwood!

This group of Park Buddies enjoyed some great stories! Marketing Director Amy Mearkle and Buddy Bear's visit hopefully helped to recruit some future employees.

Members of the DelGrosso's Park Team are out Recruiting for the 2022 Summer Season!

Thanks to our friends at the Tyrone, Bellwood, & Altoona High Schools for having our park team there, during lunch hours, to talk about employment opportunities at the park this summer!

DelGrosso Foods went BLUE for World Autism Awareness Day!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Happy 65th Birthday to Joe DelGrosso!
Members of the DelGrosso Family of Companies celebrated Joe on April 5, 2022.

Matt Haney – Human Resources. Awarded for Teamwork.
Matt willingly completed critical items in a difficult situation. His help and support were essential and appreciated. Thank you, Matt!

Caelan Mills – Marianna Foods. Awarded for Teamwork.
Caelan learned a new job and switched tables to fill a role in Marianna's production!
Keep up the good work, Caelan!

Amie Uliano-Parisi – Marketing. Awarded for Initiative.
Amie took initiative to learn (self-teach) the new Content Management System for a new website launch for Marianna's. This project fell at an extremely busy Park time and her schedule handling has been key. Great job, Amie!

Give Your Workspace a Makeover

Whether you work from home or in an office setting, there are some steps you can take to ensure that your workspace supports your wellbeing.

Prior to the pandemic, many offices transitioned to open-plan⁴ formats to encourage employee collaboration, but they inadvertently saw an increase in cold- and flu-related work absences. Sometimes the best intentions do not go as planned. That is why it is important to reassess your workspace periodically, so you can identify factors that may be getting in the way of your health.

Here are a few ways to design a healthier workspace:

Deal with the clutter. While clutter means different things to different people, tidy workspaces generally enhance productivity. If you cannot find what you need when you need it, then it may be time to reevaluate your systems for organizing.

Make healthy snack options easier. If you find yourself in front of the candy jar several times a day, you may want to relocate (or eliminate) it and replace it with healthier snack options.

Assess ergonomics. Assess your seating, desk height, keyboard and mouse positioning, and how you interact in your workspace.

Adjust the temperature. According to a 2020 study, the ideal temperature for both energy saving and productivity is 77 degrees⁴. If you have the ability to adjust the thermostat, you may want to fine-tune the temperature to boost your productivity.

Decorate with live plants. Research suggests that adding living green plants⁵ to your workspace can improve your health. Not only can plants spruce up the vibe of the workspace, but they have also been shown to help remove air pollutants.

Healthy workspaces encourage healthy behaviors. Because you spend so much time in your workspace each day, make sure it supports your wellbeing in a positive way.
